

A message: Why I'm Asking Everyone to Block 'Astro'/@Astro_OnPaws NOW

Hey everyone,

I want to address something that's been bothering me for a while, and I believe it's important for everyone who follows me to take action. This isn't something I say lightly, but unfortunately, I've come to a point where I feel it's necessary to ask you all to block someone immediately.

How It All Started

Initially, this person, she's called Astro, , and I got along great. She followed me, I followed her back, and we started talking. For a while, she was a really cool person. We had good conversations, and I genuinely enjoyed her . There was no reason to think anything was wrong.

Then, out of nowhere, around December 2023, she blocked me. I had no idea why. I tried to reach out on an alternate account to understand what had happened. Maybe it was a misunderstanding, or I said something she didn't like without realising it. But instead of a reasonable explanation, I got an aggressive response: she told me to "go away" and "fuck off" with zero context.

Where It Got Weird

Things didn't just stop there. She has since been posting increasingly bizarre and, frankly, disturbing content. She's putting up photos and videos of herself wearing terrible, creepy masks while climbing trees, acting like an animal. Look, you are NOT an animal, you're a human being. The behaviour feels so disconnected from the person I once knew, and now it's becoming toxic in my opinion.

Why I'm Asking You to Block Her

I wouldn't normally encourage this kind of action, but at this point, her behaviour has become hateful and harmful. She's acting irrationally, cutting off people for no reason, and then lashing out when confronted. I don't want anyone else to get pulled into this negativity. I've seen enough to know that this kind of person doesn't deserve to be part of a healthy online community.

That's why I'm asking every single one of you to block her immediately.

No questions asked.

No hesitation.

Please.

Just block her and move on. We don't need people like this bringing their toxic energy into our lives.

You may not believe me for now, but you are more than happy to re enact what I did exactly and you will more than likely face the same things.

She will probably try and call me out, and say the exact opposite, but do not believe her, she has a track record of editing images with near level persuasion techniques.

I have proof, you can see it by clicking here.

Thank you for understanding and for taking action.

Stay safe,
